"On The Double!"

Doins In Our Democracy . . .

Calling all classes, calling all classes! Be on the lookout for a nine-letter word spelled D-E-M-O-C-R-A-C-Y, which is running rampant all over H. H. S.!

You're apt to stumble on to it almost anywhere—in daily classroom discussions, in chapel programs, in class meetings, in the halls, and even in the principal's office. Democracy, and all it stands for, has come to mean more to us during these past few years than ever before. All the training and experience we have in the workings of a democracy and the democratic way of life here in Hagerstown High School is a decisive stepping stone toward preparing us for the world of tomorrow and the part that we, as citizens, must play in promoting and maintaining a lasting plan for peace.

Democracy must continue to flourish, if our American ideals are to grow and prosper. It is the duty of each and every student to strive toward that goal. Therefore, it is only fitting that our first credential toward application for our Passport to Peace should be democracy at work in H. H. S.

"Do I Hear A Motion?"

"Wonder If It's On?"

Reconversion, But Definitely!

Clang! Clang! Clang! No, it's not the "Trolley Song," nor the fire engine rumbling down Main Street. Instead, it is the ringing of church bells, sounding out far and wide the word that we have been waiting to hear for four years—Victory!

For four years, four achingly long years, we have molded our high school career under the stress of the speeded-up tempo of education in war time. Now, we have once again returned to the pre-war atmosphere of fun and casualness so typical of H. H. S.

It is a good feeling to know that we are able to graduate into a world where peace is in the offing, where men are striving to make this world more democratic and where we shall be able to assume the responsibilities of men and women without the fear of future wars. Yes, reconversion is here—in the school, the community, and the world itself. It is up to us to see that it is here to stay!

Socially Speaking . . .

No doubt about it, there've been some changes made! Our H. H. S. of today has come a long way since the school of 1915. It used to be a matter of "book larnin'" and nothing else, but now, a high school education includes such brilliant devices (call 'em life-savers if you want to!) as movies, banquets, carnivals, dances, and all sorts of friendly get-togethers. No longer is a social life frowned upon by the "brethren" of the school; rather, it has come to be recognized as an essential in the education of youth. Getting along with your fellow-man is the order of the day, and having fun while you're doing it adds even more sparkle to it.

Class rings, Senior cords, class plays, newspapers, and even the EPITOME have become high school institutions. It is hard to imagine what our school would be like if they were taken away. So, gather 'round underclassmen, and thank your lucky stars you weren't born in the 1890's!

"Time Honored Tradition"

"Class Rings and Bangle Bracelets"

Star Spangled Sports

"Win or lose, you're the team we'll always choose" echoes to the rafters and back again as the loyal fans of H. H. S. sing their praises of the "best old high school in the land!"

Basketball, and sports in general, are the highlights of every school year here at Hagerstown High School, and this year has been no exception. In fact, it has more nearly resembled an exciting, brightly-studded galaxy of stars, representative of the outstanding sport plays and events that have taken place. It has been a year of successes and victories for the team, but even more important, it has been a year of good sportsmanship and fair play. From the earliest games of the season to that great day when we copped the prize—a beautiful gold trophy at our Invitational Tournament—to those fateful afternoons of the Sectional, when our very "lives" were seemingly at stake, it has been a year of unsurpassed sports enthusiasm.

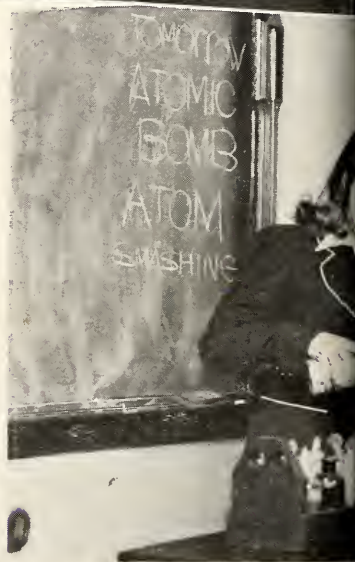

An alert and strong body is a pre-requisite for our passport to peace. Men must be physically strong as well as mentally fit if they are to build a bigger and better world for us to live in. Our world of sports at H. H. S., we believe, will "fill the order."

"Something New Has Been Added"

"Get That Ball"

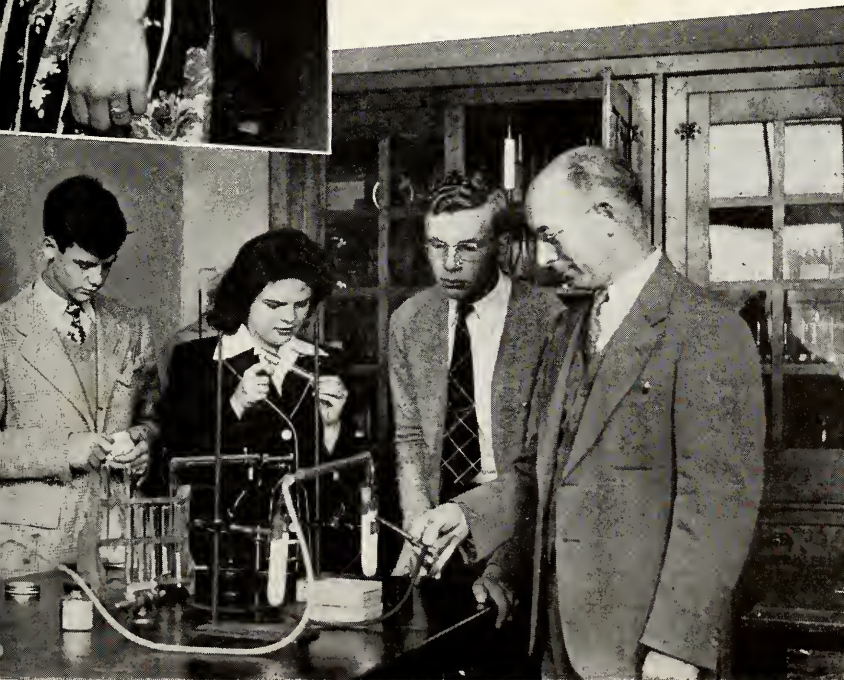

H. H. S. Futurama

Put on your rose-colored glasses and climb aboard our crystal ball for an ascension into the future! Of course, there aren't many Einsteins (or Houdinis) floating around the classrooms at H. H. S.; but nevertheless, we need a smattering of scientific foresight in order to peer through our 200-inch telescope into the world of tomorrow.

Ah, it's coming into view now! Look at those rocket ships whizzing off through space, and over there is a huge atomic power plant going full blast! And if you look hard enough—no, your eyes aren't deceiving you—you can even see H. H. S. governed and operated by the students themselves! Not a teacher in sight!

Yes, it's going to be great! But now, we face a challenge; a challenge of new fields to conquer and a challenge of maintaining peace, in order that the peoples of the earth may never again have to suffer from war and tyranny. It has become a challenge which we shall carry along with us throughout our lives, along with all our memories of a wonderful high school career.

FRANK M. CORY
Superintendent

A. B., Indiana University
A. M., Columbia University

We Are Fortunate

Merely to say that we are fortunate in having such a man as Mr. Cory as our superintendent is certainly an understatement. For in the person of Mr. Cory, we have all the qualities that could possibly be asked for in a superintendent, teacher, or friend.

Every student who enters Hagerstown High School, from the seventh grade to the Senior class, is profoundly impressed by his fairness and resourcefulness, and by the friendliness that he extends to students.

Through his diligent effort, the teaching positions in the Hagerstown schools have been kept filled with able instructors, despite the teacher shortage which occurred during the war.

Having such a man leading our school is bound to have a fine effect on the character and future success of all the students.

Progress Is Their Aim

These men, the members of the Hagerstown-Jefferson Township school board are perhaps better known to the citizens of the community than to the students themselves. Deeply interested in the manner in which the affairs of the world of tomorrow are conducted, they devote a great portion of their time and thought in planning for the sons and daughters of our community. Only when we visit other schools do we comprehend the progress that has been made by our school board in its constant efforts toward bettering our school system.

A new member of the school board is Lee J. Reynolds, succeeding the late Henry Bowman. His genuine interest in our schools is already well demonstrated.

SCHOOL BOARD

JOHN H. BAUGHMAN
Principal

A. B., Indiana University
A. M., Wisconsin University

Our Interests Are His Interests

The jobs of a principal are many and varied. It takes a patient and capable individual to carry them out successfully. Mr. Baughman, in friendly fashion, executes these tasks, becoming more and more attached to the hearts of the students as the years go by.

For many students there is a time during their high school career when they become involved in difficulties in and about school through no real fault of their own, but through mistaken ideas or perhaps through faulty judgment. The counseling of these cases requires careful analysis and foresight. Other students, in doubt about the future, go to him for advice. Mr. Baughman, with sincere concern and careful deliberation, takes each case separately and gives kind and helpful treatment to us all.

Into Each Life Some Rain Must Fall

Sure and it's a hard life we students lead. It seems we can't even toss a paper wad without that thundercloud look creeping across the teacher's countenance. Ah, yes, teachers just seem to be the dampening influence on our school life.

But, wait, there's another side to it. Let's look at it this way.

Our education today will influence our whole lives, and on teachers is placed the responsibility of molding the citizens of the future. Now, teaching doesn't consist of merely placing the facts before the student. Teachers have to be versatile. They must be leaders, friends, counselors, and advisors; they must have patience, understanding, adaptability, perseverance, initiative and a hundred other such qualities, for in their hands lies the responsibility of training youth.

And so as we let a serious thought creep into our minds we realize how indebted we are to you for your patient guidance through these four years of high school, and humbly, gratefully, we say to you, thanks,—thanks a lot.

LIKE THE ATOMIC BOMB, SENIORS OF '46 HIT THE COUNTRY WITH BIG BANG!

It was a gloomy day indeed. Everywhere people were mourning. A feeling of despondency hung over ole H. H. S., for the biggest tragedy in history had hit them hard. Hagerstown High School was losing its sensational class of 1946.

As I walked among the crowd, I heard a lady remarking,

"They were really a great bunch of kids—always doing something outstanding. Why, I can recall way back when they were only Sophomores, how they received a lot of publicity by having 100% sale of war stamps, and 100% enrollment of their girls in Girl Reserves. Then you can probably remember last year when they were Juniors. Remember their play "The Hoosier Schoolmaster"? That was really a comical masterpiece. Of course, I didn't get to see their Prom but from what my daughter told me it was something grand; all decorated like a circus with animals and band wagons and pink lemonade. But the senior year topped them all. Their first big affair was the Senior Carnival and quite a financial success, I heard. "The Night of January 16th," a murder trial, was the production they presented in November. I was one of the persons chosen from the audience to be on the jury that night, and what a time I had.

"Yes, it seems that the atomic bomb was the only thing that equaled the sensation caused by that class, and like atomic power, I know they'll be a powerful force in the making of the future, those Sensational Seniors of 1946!"

TIME'S A WASTIN'—LEAVE US BE SENIORS!

What can we say to the class that will rise up and set Senior examples in our place next year?

We wish them the best of luck in hurdling all the problems that face them as Seniors, and are sure that they will fill our place sufficiently, but not forget us.

We hope they will not only accept our goals, but set them higher.

We have seen examples of their business abilities in their two junior papers.

We recognized their originality from their Junior and Senior Prom.

We also congratulate them on their extra-fine acting in "Love Thy Neighbor."

Miss Hormel and Miss Robertson are their sponsors.

We, the Senior Class, after considering the past history of this up and coming class, do permit them to take our place as Seniors of Hagerstown High School and sincerely wish them the best of everything for their happiest year in high school.

HALF WAY THERE

Two steps taken and two to go—that's our class of "48." As a rule the Sophomore class is rather quiet and very much engrossed in growing up, but not this class. They live while they grow, and every time you turn around you run into a Sophomore trying to make money for the class treasury. They meet you with a smile and the ever ready phrase "Wanta buy a Tiger emblem?"

This class is well represented on our basketball squad, not to mention the fact that one of our very capable yell leaders is one of its members.

They have chosen as their sponsors two of our new additions to the faculty, Mr. Edwardson and Miss Greer, who, incidentally, have done a very fine job of handling this lively bunch. Max Smith, Dean Hilbert and Tom Roth are their officers.

Freshman Officers

Mr. Helman, sponsor, I. Crull, S. Clark, N. Ulrich, Mrs. Helman, sponsor.

"BEGINNING TO SEE THE LIGHT"

This year's Freshman class is a vital link in our chain at H. H. S. They not only distinguished themselves by winning the honors in the bond selling contest but they supply us with our drum major-ettes.

Not to differ from other Freshman classes, they were a trifle green the first three or four weeks but well—much as we hate to admit it—weren't we all!

The first Freshman class party was held at the Scout Lake with a hay ride following.

They elected, this year, as their guiding hands Mr. and Mrs. Helman as sponsors, and Ivan Crull, Shirley Clark and Norman Ulrich as class officers.

EIGHTH GRADE FURNISHES PEP

Whether it is yelling at a ball game or selling war bonds (incidentally they placed second in the bond drive) you can always count on the eighth grade to show up well. Mr. Sedgwick and Mr. Cain are their sponsors. Bonnie Fuson is their president.

HI-Y

SNIPS N' SNAILS N' PUPPY DOG TAILS

Clean speech, clean scholarship, clean sports, clean living,—these are the guide posts in the Hi-Y Club, and by stressing these points throughout the year in their programs and activities, the Hi-Y has done much to create and maintain a high standard of Christian character among the boys at H. H. S.

Topics, such as scholarship, religion, and sportsmanship were chosen each month as a basis for their programs. Some of the speakers were ex-G. I's: Bob Harris told of his experiences in Europe; Reverend Short spoke at Thanksgiving; Reverend Davis at Christmas; and Captain Marion Harcourt gave an account of his thrilling experiences with the Army Air Corps while he was in the Pacific Theatre of War.

The club started off its activities by operating the second-hand book store this fall.

In November, the Cabinet members attended the District Conferences at Anderson and Muncie where Walter Ulrich was elected Treasurer of the Fifth District.

The highlight of the year came with their annual Father-Son Banquet which was attended by more than 150 fathers and sons. John Magnabosco of Ball State presented a humorous but timely talk on boys and sports.

By supporting worthwhile campaigns throughout the school, by promoting school activities, and by acting as a guiding hand to boys, the H-Y Club has proven itself a valuable and essential organization in our school life today.

Girl Reserves

SUGAR N' SPICE N' EVERYTHING NICE!

The Girl Reserve Club really rang the bell this year with a record membership of 120. The first meeting, spiced up by Spike Jones' version of "Chloe," started the year off with a bang.

Detective stories by Mrs. Reese, a view of our future opportunities explained to us by Mr. Aders, and Paul Hindman's experiences and descriptions of India are just samples of the G.R. programs this year.

At the Mother and Daughter Tea in November, all new members were initiated into the club during a very impressive ceremony.

The Cabinet attended the G.R. Conference at Muncie where Girl Reserves from all over the state met and exchanged ideas for improving their clubs.

At Christmas time, eight boxes of clothing and toys were sent to needy children in the Bahama Islands.

At the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet, "Anauta" from Baffinland, presented a colorful talk, sprinkled with humor, which was received warmly by both mothers and daughters.

This year's G.R. programs and activities have moved along smoothly under the careful planning of the Cabinet and the fine leadership of their new sponsor, Miss Griffin.

Patronesses for 1945-46 were Mrs. George Leavell, Mrs. D. L. Cartmell, Mrs. Bruce Abbott, and Miss Helen Smith.

LINCOLN FORGOT US . . .

. . . when he freed the slaves, for editing a yearbook is definitely slave labor. True, we weren't shackled and we did get three meals a day but Simon Legree's slaves couldn't have worked harder than did we members of the staff. Selection of a theme, picture arrangements with Hirshburg, illustrations, conflabs with Mr. Baughman, write-ups, meeting deadlines—that makes up our tale of woe.

But editing a yearbook was something we had looked forward to from the time we were Freshies, and every financial gain our class made was tucked away to be used to make our Epitome the best one ever to come out of ole H. H. S.

Well, four years slipped by pretty quickly and there it was staring us in the face—the responsibility of turning out OUR Epitome.

The schools had done much toward the war effort and now that peace was here, we wanted to show what an important role schools played in maintaining the peace. Therefore, we chose as our theme "Passport to Peace," our passport symbolizing the education, social activities, and training we have received here in our four years at Hagerstown High School.

And so, as passing seniors, we have compiled this pictorial record of school life, our Epitome of 1946, hoping that it will be more than just another book on the shelf, hoping that it will be a pleasant reminder of a fun filled year at H. H. S.

YOU, TOO, CAN HELP!

The Best way in which to describe this year's Red Cross Council is "small but mighty." They offered help in not only one field of Red Cross work, but many. For disabled service men, joke books were made. For children of war-torn Europe, gift boxes, which included many school supplies, were filled and sent. A course in Red Cross Nursing was offered. Eighteen girls received certificates upon completion of this course.

Arrangements are being made in order that one member of the Council may represent Hagerstown High School as a delegate at the National Junior Red Cross Convention at Philadelphia in June.

With such active organizations as the Red Cross Council within our school, we should be proud to aid them in any way possible and let them know that we are behind them 100 per cent.

LIBRARIANS

KEEPERS OF THE BOOKS

Anywhere you happen to see a group of students in H. H. S., you are almost sure to see some evidence of the library—books, pamphlets, or magazines. The students, as a whole, take interest in the library because they find enjoyment there and a vicarious way of enriching their experiences.

The student librarians, under the excellent supervision of Miss Hormel, have done a wonderful job of assisting students in the use of the library and keeping the necessary records.

NEVER AN IDLE MOMENT

"You would like to speak to your daughter? I'll see if she is in class." This is a typical remark of those who work in the office.

Office assistants are kept busy lending a helping hand to Mr. Baughman. There are many things to be done—telephones to answer, absence lists to type, letters to write, records to keep, errands to run . . . these are a few of the many duties of the office force.

Incidentally, it's a privilege to be able to help in the office; so underclassmen, keep on that straight and narrow path!

A REPORTER RETORTS . . .

"that writing isn't as simple as it sounds. Sifting out the important facts, then adding life and color to make it an interesting article, takes some thought and hard work."

Such is the life of our Exponent staff!

Keeping Mr. O'Neel supplied with the latest dope on school news and activities has been a full time job, but under the guiding hand of Mrs. Elsie Helman, this year's staff has turned out some excellent journalism.

Representatives from the staff were sent to a state press convention at Franklin College this fall. This automatically made the Exponent a member of the Indiana High School State Press Association. Their creed, "Better Journalism," sums up in two words the goal of our Exponent Staff.

STRIKE UP THE BAND!

"The Fleet's In"—at least that's the way it looks when Roger Helman's high-stepping band comes on the floor in their navy blue coats and white trousers. But you soon discover your mistake when those baton-twirling majorettes step out smartly adding greater color to the scene.

The band has added much to each home basketball game this year. They also played for Armistice Day, V-E Day, V-J Day, Memorial Day and many other programs throughout the year. The band held its annual summer concerts in front of the Post Office, and plans to present a Spring Concert.

The band's repertoire has been increased to include such marches as "Bombasto," "Lights," and "Semper Paratus." Other selections are "Raymond," "Star Dust," and Entrance of the 'March of the Peers.'

Band officers this year are student director—Bill Cartmell, captain—John Adamson, lieutenant—James Cory, sergeant—James Tuttle, librarian—Priscilla Sherry, and news reporter—John Nelson.

Boys and Girls Choir

SING AND THE WORLD SINGS WITH YOU

When it comes to singing, the combined A Cappella choir does it for the pure joy of singing! If you were walking down Main Street two or three nights before Christmas, you would have heard the Girls' Choir singing Christmas Carols in the Lions' Club Room. In the school's annual Christmas program, both the Girls' and Boys' Choirs took part, as they did for other such programs as Armistice Day, Holy Week, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Mr. Helman, director of the combined choirs, has worked hard with them and has added many new selections, among which are "In a Monastery Garden," "On the Road to Mandalay," "I Heard a Forest Praying," "Thanks Be To God," "Invictus," and many others.

Both choirs have had so much fun this year that they hope the choirs in years to come will have an equal amount of fun and make as much progress in musical achievement as they have.

SWING AND SWAY THE H. H. S. WAY

When you hear the blending brasses and the melodious reed section in the strains of "My Dear," it's not Jan Garber and his Musical Airway, but Hagerstown High School's own Swing Band and their director opening another evening of dancing.

The Swing Band's popularity has increased greatly this year. They have played numerous times for the Girl Reserves and Hi-Y Club's dances, and also for dances sponsored by the Odd Fellows' Lodge. Many new selections have been learned, including popular waltzes, standard fox trots, and a number of best sellers.

It is our hope that the Swing Band will continue being successful, and grow and prosper as they have in the past year.

The outlook for agriculture is always brighter for those who are well equipped for the solution of problems as they occur. Vocational Agriculture classes are offered for three different groups: High School Boys; Out of School young men who have just started farming; and Adult farmers who are engaged in farming or who own farms. These last two groups meet in Night School Classes during the winter months. (See pictures in snap shot sect'on.)

BOYS 4-H

4-H Clubs offer training in a number of ways. Two of these are fellowship and leadership. Young members should learn the first so that they may be better leaders. The following of oral or written instructions for doing a certain task is the first step toward leadership. Members of the local Chapter of the Future Farmers of America who have had 4-H experience are being trained for Junior leaders in 4-H work. These Junior leaders assist the adult leader in many ways to "Make the Best Better."

WHAT'S COOKIN', GOOD-LOOKIN'?

This year the Home Economics Department, under the leadership of Mrs. Smith, has played a more vital role in the school than ever before.

There have been the usual classes in Foods, Clothing, Child Care and Home Nursing with additional work in Red Cross sewing and a new class in Advanced Home Economics. The girls in this class have helped in the management of the school cafeteria, which has been a decided asset to the school.

The size of the classes has nearly doubled that of previous years. This proves that more and more, students are beginning to realize the importance of Home Economics in the world of today.

Girls' 4-H Club

We should feel proud of our local Girls' 4-H Club. This year they have been very active and have walked away with their share of honors. They won the County Canning, Clothing Judging, and Food Preparation Judging contests; then they competed in the district contest, and won Clothing Judging there.

"Take Care When You Say Te Quiero"

If some one should say to you "Yo te amo" with a very romantic look in his eyes, would you know what he was talking about? Ask anyone who has taken Spanish. Spain, the land of gay señoritas, handsome señores, and romantic intrigue calls you. Sounds like a travel folder doesn't it? It's as good as taking a trip through old Spain when you attend one of Mr. Baughman's Spanish classes. Learn about the customs and songs of old Spain. Oh yes, and the Spanish language too!

IF IT'S SPEAKING YOU'RE SEEKING . . .

"Oh 'teach,' not another speech tomorrow!" No fooling though kids, if you want a really liberal education (and who doesn't?) take the speech course which Miss Hormel is offering. You can learn the virtues of the "Third Little Pig," the experiences of "Herman the Microbe," and the adventures of two Senior girls at the lake. You hear hot and heavy debating on all subjects, learn all the phases of scientific football and even how to raise chickens. Last, but not least, you can even write an 1,800 word essay!

Spanish Class

Seated on steps: N. Bales, J. Cougill, S. Clark, J. Fisher, Mr. Baughman, J. Clark, C. Brooks, B. Willis.

Second Row: R. Blunk, J. Rhoades, P. Bowman, F. House, B. Ridge, W. Mitchell, E. Cooper, C. Higgins, N. Stohler, P. Holloway.

Third Row: P. Brooks, G. Brooks, J. Hamilton, S. Myers, M. Smith, T. Roth.

Fourth Row: B. Brown, J. Becker, C. Cain, D. Hilbert.

CHATTIN' IN LATIN

Would you like to know about a genius? Caius Julius Caesar was just such a man. He stands out yet as one of the few men who have changed the history of the world. He created a new order and laid the foundation on which our civilization is based. Of course, first year Latin is hardly that romantic, but it is vital because it not only gives you a basis for learning Ceasar, but also helps with your English and is the basis for most of the modern European languages.

TAKE A LETTER, PLEASE!

The Commercial Department, which includes typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, and office practice students, through its rapid progress, is making for better business men and women who will willingly take their place in this changing world.

Fourth Row: J. Sedgwick, D. Groves, T. Knapp.

BOY SCOUTS

Although Troop 3 was sponsored by the school, the troop activities were carried on largely outside of school. Training in leadership, and co-operation was developed through camping trips at the lakes and in the woods.

A project completed by Troop 3 this year was a relief map of the new Bear Creek Boy Scout Reservation for the council's use, which appeared in most of Indiana's newspapers.

Community projects were financed by gathering and selling scrap paper and whenever community work was required, the Boy Scouts were always there to offer their services.

GIRL SCOUTS

GIRL SCOUTS REORGANIZE

The local girl scout organization has now enlarged its setup to five troops, including two Brownie Troops for girls 7 to 9, two Intermediate Troops for girls 10 to 13, and one Senior Troop for high school girls. Mrs. Linley Hamilton, Mrs. Harold Sinex, Mrs. James Hettsmansperger, Mrs. Stanley Davis, and Miss Greer, capable sponsors, are kept quite busy managing 75 active scouters.

They have, during the past year, been working on badge projects—that is, working on projects for which they hope to receive badges in recognition of their work. Some of their projects include child care, outdoor activities, and music appreciation.

Of course, they always look forward to springtime when camping is possible!

ATHLETICS AT H. H. S. . . . O. K.

We had a well rounded athletic program at H. H. S. this year. As our school year got under way, baseball held sway during September and October. Then King Basketball ascended the throne on November first, and reigned supreme until the Ides of March. We had a very successful season this year, under the fine coaching of Mr. Marfield Cain, who also taught physical education and coached us in a track program, the first one in several years.

The boys weren't the only ones who enjoyed sports at our school. The girls played kick ball, socker, volley ball, and other sports which go with girls' athletics. The girls also developed stronger minds and bodies under Miss Greer, who taught girls' physical education.

Worthy of mention also was the fine cheering section of H. H. S. this year which was developed through the efforts of our outstanding yell leaders, Tom Roth, Maxine Earhart, and Sammy Baumgartner.

Background: A. Thalls, F. Riggs, G. Stohler, J. Harlan, trainer, F. Ashinger.

FIRMAN RIGGS

Better known as "Fireball," Riggs played a hard game. His rebounding and passing made him a valuable asset to this year's team. He is a Senior and will be lost through graduation.

GENE STOHLER

Gene was always in there fighting and his backboard work and jumping ability did much towards the winning of our games. He was one of the leading scorers and will be missed by next year's team.

CYRIL LESTER

"Les" never changed his attitude, no matter how tough the going was. He was always ready to give his best for the full thirty-two minutes. His place at guard will surely be hard to fill next year.

JOHN HARLAN

Harlan, playing guard, helped us out of several tight spots, always in there battling his opponents for the ball. A good ball handler and conscientious player, he will be missed next year.

B A S K E T B A L L

JIM CORY

Cory, leading scorer this year, played a level-headed game. He is a good dribbler and very handy with those left-handed pivot shots. He is a Junior and has another year to play for H. H. S.

NORMAN GRAY

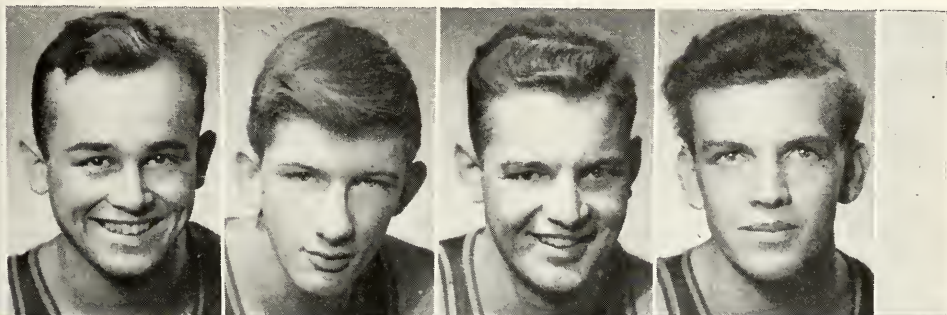

"Mouse," playing either at forward or guard, picked up speed as the season continued, making several buckets when we needed them most. He is a Junior and should be an asset to next year's team.

DEAN CONWELL

Although Dean hasn't seen much action, his spirit and attitude has spurred our team on its way to a victorious season. A Junior, he has another season to look forward to at H. H. S.

ADRIAN THALLS

"Abe," always in the opponents' road, has given a good account of himself. His height, drive, and spirit added much to the team. He is only a Sophomore and has two more years to look forward to here at H. H. S.

B A S K E T B A L L

KITTENS, WIN! WIN! WIN!

The Tiger Kittens have proved themselves worthy of their name by winning 14 out of their 17 games. They have shown outstanding playing ability as their scores indicate. The sophomores, as well as the juniors, should prove very helpful within the next two years when varsity teams take the floor.

B A S E B A L L

The baseball team, although they did not have a very successful season, never lost that fighting spirit or the urge to win. No matter how far behind they were or how tough the going was, the fellows were always in there pitching, right up to the last inning.

The best game of the season came with the 24-4 setback handed Milton under the excellent pitching of Jim Cory and the good fielding of the entire team.

The season closed with the record standing at four wins, including Economy, Webster, Williamsburg, and Milton, as compared with six losses.

With twelve of the 16 boys whose faces appear in the picture below returning next year, it is safe to predict a winning season in the fall of '46.

Baseball Team

Third Row: W. Ulrich, F. Riggs, J. Blunk, D. Brown, J. Bird, T. Moore, Coach, Mr. Cain.

H. H. S. BATTING AVERAGES

The Tigers' batting averages this year were exceptionally good. Stohler was top slugger this season, banging out a .481 percentage while Riggs followed with a close .438. Although heavy hitting was an important factor, loose fielding proved to be the greatest weakness and resulted in several losses.

This year's batting averages are as follows:

Name	At Bat	Runs	Hits	Per Cent
Gene Stohler	27	6	13	.481
Firman Riggs	32	9	14	.438

GIRLS!! IN ATHLETICS??

Yes, our girls play a big part in H. H. S. sports. All of the gym classes have large enrollments. They played outside until the weather forced them inside, and as usual they couldn't wait until the basket-ball season started.

Besides basket-ball they played soft-ball, kick-ball, volley-ball and deck tennis. Next on the list is tumbling. More sore muscles.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

The Class of 1946 of H. H. S., being in extremely generous mood, and highly desirous of disposing of all scholastic possessions while yet of sound mind (though outta this world) hereby make the following bequests:

John Adamson leaves his position with the Freshman girls to Bernard Taylor, provided he goes to all their parties. (Sucker!)

Martha Bales wills her place as pianist in boy's glee club to Mary Louise Stohler, if—there's a certain Sophomore boy there to make it more interesting.

Bonnie Barrett bestows her hand-knit sweaters upon all those girls in the Jr. class who love (?) to knit.

Isabelle Barrett gives her "technique" to any Jr. girl who longs for a diamond.

George Bertram wills his luck at hitch-hiking to Sam Baumgartner because he thinks Sam's shoes can stand the wear.

Mary Louise Blevins leaves her place as one of Mother Nature's kiddies to anyone who can convince "mamma" that H. H. S. can do without those cute creatures called mice.

Norma Brown wills her collection of gray hairs to the faculty, as they're the ones responsible for them in the first place.

Christine Burton gladly gives her seat in health class to Madge Blevins, providing she listens more attentively to the teacher than did Chris.

Harold Canaday gives up his seat by the door in 5th period assembly to anyone who will promise to be the first one out each day.

Bill Cartmell wills his uncontrollable wink to anyone who loves to be slapped.

Pat Chism leaves her good-looking brother to any member of the Jr. or Sophomore class who can get him.

Marvin Clark wills his Model "T" to Mr. Barnhartt, if he can keep it on 2 wheels like Marvin did (it saves tires).

Barbara Corbitt will buy for Mary Ann Foulke a combination flashlight-binoculars in order that Mary Ann will be able to see better at night.

Dick Cordell wishes his driving ability (?) on Max Smith if his car can stand the strain.

Barbara Cougill leaves her field glasses to Frances Brown to take to the New Castle football games; but she must keep her eyes on the ball—not the players.

Alice Coy wills her ability to get to the cafeteria quickly at noon to Phyllis Wissler if she will use Alice's trick of sliding down the banister.

Tom Cromer bestows his reputation as a "card shark" upon Reke Frantz.

Harold Cromis gives his seat in Economics to anyone who can liven the class up as much as Harold did.

LaWanda Cromis leaves her position in Watkin's Garage to any girl who can get a mechanic of her own to work there.

Maxine Earhart wills her job of yell leader to Jackie Snoko, if Miss Snoko will continually carry vitamin pills (and take them) for that "added touch."

Joanne Flood wills her figure (?) to Mary Beth Cromer, in hopes that M. B. may reach a happy compromise.

Barbara Foulke leaves her dimples to the incoming 7th graders so that they will have better luck than the last class in getting the attention of a Senior "swoon goon."

Leora Fuson gives up her position in bookkeeping to Barbara Steward if she will make good use of it and not compete with the circumstances.

Betty Gabbard forces her books upon any poor unfortunate, as she doesn't need them any more.

Dick Groves wills his ability to run out of gas to Bill Demaree, who he thinks can use it to his advantage.

Glen Hagler leaves the part he played in government and economics class arguments to anyone brave enough to defy Miss Griffin.

Fred Hanna gives his motorcycle to Bill Wilkinson if Bill promises not to go over 5 miles per hour (except on roads and highways).

John Harlan wills his "levies" (blue jeans to the simpler minded) to Tom Roth providing the latter can do justice to them.

SENIOR CLASS WILL

Valeda Keeling bestows her everlasting gift of gab upon everybody, feeling that she has enough to go around and plenty left over.

Ralph Kendall wishes his ability to be at school (and on time) every day upon any student who will have it.

Dottie Leavell gives her Roosevelt banner to Bob Forrest to give him an added attraction for his already ample Dewey button collection.

Cyril Lester leaves his seat in Chemistry to anyone who can understand Mr. Barnhart's chemical technology.

Mary Kay Miller wills her ability to whisper in Economics class (and get caught every time) to Dorothy Rinehart.

John Nelson leaves his bass fiddle with anyone who can break as many (or more) strings than John did.

Joanne Paton wills her community taxi (in common words the little black ford) to anyone who can afford the gas.

Jennie June Paul wills her "big brown eyes" to any Jr. who will promise to use them to the best of her ability.

Richard Pitts surrenders his atomic powered Ford to Beulah Griffin, providing she will get rid of that trap of hers.

Diannah Purdy leaves her fascinating (?) job of editing the Epitome to any Jr. who promises (by mechanical means or otherwise) to keep Mr. Baughman awake during those "night sessions." (She's tried everything.)

Guy Ramey gives his job of selling ice-cream to Jim Bird if same can meet requirements and not flirt with the girls—too much.

Rena Rethaford wills her ability to stand in front of the speech class, speechless, to Betty Ridge, if she can stand the embarrassment.

Mildred Rhoades bequeaths her matrimonial abilities to all H. H. S. girls with old maidish tendencies—if there are any.

Firman Riggs leaves his basketball "shots" to Jim Sedgwick providing Jim knocks the bottom out of the bucket.

Clidus Rinehart gives his girls to Herschel Murray.

Esther Rinehart wills her position at the ditto machine to Polly Day. Warning: please remember to bring a cake of tar soap along.

J. N. Rinehart wills his car (?) to Norman Gray if Norman doesn't break off more sign posts than J. N. did.

Wilma Schneider leaves her seat in Home Ec. to someone who will enjoy it as much as she did.

Betty Lou Scott wills her place in front of the assembly every other Wednesday (as G. R. President) to Jean Moyer if Jean can make as many blunders as she did. (Joke)

Eulalah Scott wishes her bookkeeping book upon Hilda Gray (plus the notes which Eulalah thinks will brighten up the period).

Peggy Stenzle leaves all branches of the service, except the Navy, to any girl who wants them (Is she kidding?).

Gene Stohler wills his becoming (?) blush to Franklin Ashinger because he thinks Frank looks "nice" in that shade of red.

Arlene Swearingen wills her ability to play the piano by ear to any girl whose ears are big enough to trail over the keys.

Merna Swearingen gives her blonde hair to Bonnie Stauble if B. J. can make the 2 colors match.

Russell Wampler reluctantly gives up his scoreboard to Harry Lee Weaver providing he gets as much pleasure from it as Russ did.

And now the Seniors of 1946 with their last fleeting gasp here and now give and bestow the title of SENIORS upon those who have trailed along behind them so many years but who could never catch up with them—the Juniors.

Witnesseth our hand this 26th day of April, 1946:

CLASS of 1946

CLASS PROPHECY

What a change! -On this day, April 27, 1960, I chanced to open the Epitome of 1946 and found myself at once comparing the Hagerstown of then with the Hagerstown of today. Since then, it has acquired an added population of 1,000,000. We credit this to the fact that Joanne Paton, cigar magnate (manufacturer of the "Little Giant" cigar) has moved her factory here. Much of the tobacco is purchased from Glen Hagler, who is also an auctioneer.

Another great business organization is the Men's Plastic Foundation Garment Factory run by John Adamson. It is for the purpose of eliminating bay windows. (J. N. Rinehart is the model.)

At last the Republicans have come into power—and have proved themselves quite capable for the new mayor is Russell "Little Weed" Wampler. In honor of the election, and in order to beautify our already fair city, Diannah Purdy has just completed the tedious task of painting expensive murals on the town water tower.

Our new Justice of the Peace, Ralph Kendall, has started his term off with a "BOING," for the first marriage he performed was that of Barbara Foulke and Bill Brankle. Incidentally, in honor of the time spent by Mr. Brankle in the Hawaiian Islands, Miss Foulke at last consented to be married in a grass skirt.

Other newly-elected-officers are: Leora Fuson, park commissioner, whose energy is exerted in beautifying the town. Each night she rolls up the sidewalks. Wilma Schneider, her assistant, ties them up and "tucks them in." Barbara Cougill is our first lady fireman. The great inventor, Isabelle Barrett, has just completed an invention for the "Chief"—a system of buttons (radio control), so that no one ever has to leave the station. Clidus Rinehart, our prosecutor and street cleaner, has many varied duties. Besides picking up trash from the gutter, he picks up drunks as well. Congressman, Dick Cordell, opened up the new session by presenting a bill to limit the speed rate to 20 miles per hour having learned the evils of speeding at a tender age.

Our new Hoosier State Building has been erected and Dottie Lou Leavell prides herself on being the one responsible for its completion. It seems that Miss Leavell applied the last spoonful of mortar needed to complete the 103 story building. Going from top to bottom, Firman Riggs is now head janitor in the basement. At least it gives Mr. Riggs great chance for advancement. Also in the building's employ are the famous "3"—Bales, Burton, and Scott. Since they were the first ones ever to climb Pike's Peak, the company thinks it good advertisement to have them carry messages throughout the building by climbing up on the outside of it.

John Nelson has just made his third trip to the moon in a rocketship. Esther Rinehart is his competent stewardess. (Says Mr. Nelson, "There is no greater invention than the automatic pilot.") The passenger list includes: Alice Coy, who teaches Home Ec. in Harvard and is taking a vacation from the famous school to get away from "men"; Bill Cartmell, the famous lecturer and detective, who solved the baffling case of "Who Threw the Whiskey in the Well?"; Merna Swearingen who has just perfected a match that won't light (she believes it to be safer); Fred Hanna, designer of a prison uniform for those short fat unfortunates—suits with stripes running up and down; and Rena Retherford who has just won all women's appreciation by mixing a formula for shaving legs that takes but one application a year.

CLASS PROPHECY

Dick Groves has finally reached his goal; last week he was awarded the Hagerstown tiddly-wink champion medal. Speaking of champions, coach Lester's team came home the victors of the nation's basketball tourney. It seems that he sprayed the opposite team with D. D. T. (by mistake, of course). The yells were led by Maxine Earhart's triplets, this year's very capable yell leaders.

The famous lawyer, John Harlan, was called upon to defend Marvin Clark in a case of Cromer vs. Clark. It seems that Marvin has invented a deck of cards with 5 aces, a point which Mr. Cromer violently opposes.

Oh, by the way, many of the 1946 Seniors are now famous celebrities: George Bertram is running a close second to Charles Atlas. Skeet Brown is the olympic diving champion of the Sahara Desert. Her specialty is a belly-flop with a half-twist. Mary Louise Blevins has just set a world record! She rolled a peanut all the way from New York to California with her nose. But don't worry, the peanut had a shell. Harold Cromis has just won a medal for the year's most dangerous occupation. It seems that he is matador to a bull—frog. Jennie June Paul was honored at a recent Boy Scout Banquet. Miss Paul is a very efficient and understanding scoutmaster.

Arlene Swearingen's husband is never jealous. She is conducting a school for men. The subject "How To Get Your Woman."

LaWanda Cromis is now owner and grease monkey of her own garage. She looks darn nice in overalls.

Betty Gabbard now sells great quantities of bird seed to Mildred Rhodes, manufacturer of cuckoo clocks.

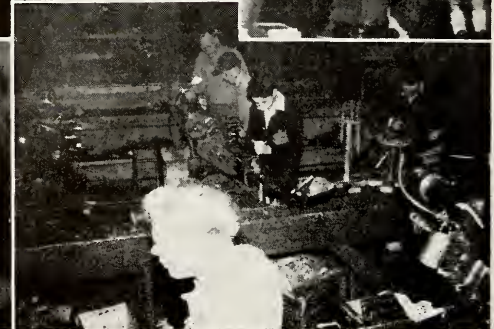

Peggy Stenzle, famous director, is just beginning a new production, "Forever Yellow" (who's stylish?). However, Mary Kay Miller is really having a tough time spraying everything with yellow paint. Joanne Flood has finally distinguished herself in some of the movies' luscious love scenes—she puts the lipstick on the "kissable" ladies.

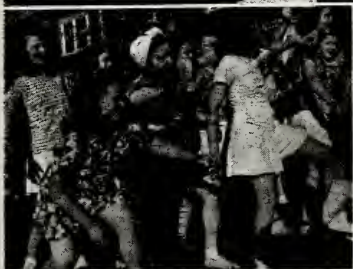

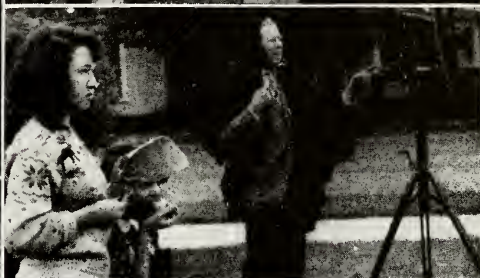

Some of the most unusual occupations of 1960 are attributed to the Seniors of '46: Guy Ramey is now missionary to the mermaids (he tells them all about those two-legged "wolves"). Bonnie Barrett, through a change of heart, is kept pretty busy giving her string of pearls back to the oysters; Pat Chism has started a school to teach pigs how to dance (with bubbles); and Richard Pitts is head of the Humane Society of lightning bugs, to which creatures he is teaching the morse code.

Three of the year's greatest "brains" are: Valeda Keeling who, through complicated mathematical study, has finally discovered how to make daisies come out "He Loves Me"; scientist Betty Lou Scott who has perfected a hair tonic for the bald eagle; and Barbara Corbitt who, by crossing a kangaroo with a mink, has now invented a mink coat with pockets.

Two men have literally "gone places." One of them is Harold Canaday who has completed a tour of the United States by jumping over box-cars on his pogo stick. The other is Gene Stohler who paddled a canoe all the way to the North Pole in order to establish a bachelor farm for other such unfortunates as Van Johnson and Frank Sinatra.

Yes, Hagerstown has changed, but for the better. And so, full of fond memories, I turn the last page, close the book and put it back on the shelf—this time to stay there!
